

Whistleblower Policy

Background and Purpose

Kiland Ltd (“KIL” or “the Company”) is committed to facilitating a culture of honest and ethical behaviour, corporate compliance and good corporate governance. KIL encourages the reporting of suspected unethical, illegal, corrupt, fraudulent or undesirable conduct involving KIL’s business.

This Whistleblower Policy is an important element in detecting corrupt, illegal or other undesirable conduct at Kiland Ltd.

The purpose of this Policy is to:

- (a) explain how to speak up, by reporting concerns about wrongdoing;
- (b) outline what protections a person who reports wrongdoing will receive; and
- (c) outline Kiland Ltd’s processes for dealing with reports of wrongdoing.

Creating a supportive environment, where people feel safe to speak up, underpins Kiland Ltd’s culture. When people do not speak up, this undermines the culture and exposes Kiland Ltd to risks. Kiland Ltd encourages speaking up about concerns of wrongdoing at Kiland Ltd. There are various measures in place to ensure no one is discouraged from speaking up, or disadvantaged or victimised for doing so.

This Policy covers the processes for dealing with disclosures made by employees and stakeholders of suspected improper conduct within Kiland Ltd in a confidential and secure manner and is intended to apply to whistleblowers in all countries in which Kiland Ltd operates.

Kiland Ltd is committed to the highest standards of conduct and ethical behaviour in all of our business activities, and to promoting and supporting a culture of honest and ethical behaviour, corporate compliance and strong corporate governance.

This policy is available on the website of Kiland Ltd. It is reviewed annually and was last reviewed in September 2023.

This Policy supplements any other policies applicable to Kiland Ltd.

1. Who may make a report?

Anyone with information about potential wrongdoing relating to Kiland Ltd is encouraged to report their concerns under this Policy.

This includes individuals who are, or have been, in relation to Kiland Ltd:

- (a) an employee, officer or contractor;
- (b) a supplier of services or goods to Kiland Ltd (whether paid or unpaid) including their employees; and
- (c) a relative, dependant or spouse of any of the above individuals.

Whistleblower Policy

2. What to report

Any concerns of wrongdoing should be reported. This means any misconduct or improper state of affairs or circumstances in relation to Kiland Ltd.

Examples of wrongdoing may include:

- (a) breach of laws or regulations;
- (b) criminal activity including theft;
- (c) serious breach of Kiland Ltd's Code of Conduct or Policies;
- (d) offering or accepting a bribe;
- (e) dishonest or unethical behaviour;
- (f) conflicts of interest;
- (g) anti-competitive behaviour;
- (h) financial fraud or mismanagement including in relation to Kiland Ltd's tax affairs;
- (i) falsifying financial or corporate reporting;
- (j) insider trading;
- (k) unauthorised use of Kiland Ltd's confidential information;
- (l) improper use of Personal Information as described in any Kiland Ltd's Privacy Statement;
- (m) improper use of Kiland Ltd's physical or intellectual property;
- (n) conduct endangering health and safety or causing damage to the environment; and
- (o) deliberate concealment of any of the above.

Wrongdoing does not generally include personal-work related grievances. Grievances which cannot be resolved through speaking with peers or the employee's manager should be raised with the formal grievance resolution within the company. If a grievance may have significant wider implications for Kiland Ltd, this can be reported through the applicable whistleblower channel. There is an expectation that anyone reporting a wrongdoing has reasonable grounds to suspect the information they are disclosing is true, but there will be no penalty if the information turns out to be incorrect. Those reporting are expected to provide the information upon which their suspicion is based, but are not required to have all the details or have conducted their own investigation.

Personal work-related grievances are not within the scope of this Policy and will be addressed through the applicable grievance resolution process. Personal work-related grievances relate to an employee's current or former employment and tend to have implications for them personally. Examples include:

- (a) an interpersonal conflict between the employee and another employee;
- (b) a concern about the behaviour of an employee;
- (c) a decision relating to an employee's engagement, transfer or promotion;
- (d) an employee's terms and conditions of employment;

Whistleblower Policy

- (e) matters relating to an employee's performance or discipline-related decisions; or
- (f) a decision relating to the termination of employment.

To whom can disclosures be made?

Disclosures can be made to:

- (a) Compliance Officer: Victoria Allinson (email vicky.allinson@kiland.com.au)
- (b) Alternate Compliance Officer: James Davies (email jd@tianxia.investments)

A whistleblower can contact a compliance officer to obtain additional information before making a disclosure.

It is important to note that under the Corporations Act, the whistleblower may also raise the matter with an "officer" or "senior manager" of the company. These are defined in the Corporations Act as "a director, or a senior manager in the company who makes, or participates in making, decisions that affect the whole, or a substantial part, of the business of the company, or who has the capacity to affect significantly the company's financial standing."

Those not wanting to reveal their identity can make an anonymous report. However, providing the whistleblower's name when reporting wrongdoing will make it easier for Kiland Ltd to investigate the concern raised. For example, the context in which wrongdoing was observed is likely to be useful information. Employees and others who report wrongdoing are protected by Kiland Ltd, including maintaining confidentiality of the reports and the identity of the whistleblower.

Where no name is provided, Kiland Ltd will assess the disclosure in the same way as if identity had been revealed, and any investigation will be conducted as best as possible in the circumstances. However, an investigation might not be possible unless sufficient information is provided.

Employees and stakeholders disclosing wrongdoing will be protected and the investigation will be conducted in accordance with the principles of fairness and natural justice.

3. Responsibility for Policy Compliance and Review

The Compliance Officer for Kiland Ltd is responsible for:

- (a) the overall administration of this Policy;
- (b) monitoring the implementation of this Policy and reviewing on an ongoing basis the Policy's suitability and effectiveness.
- (c) seeking to protect the whistleblower from Detrimental Conduct;
- (d) assisting the whistleblower in maintaining wellbeing;
- (e) maintaining whistleblower confidentiality, where relevant, including as required by law;
- (f) reviewing and considering any complaints of Detrimental Conduct or any concern that disclosure has not been dealt with in accordance with this policy.

4. Protecting a whistleblower's identity

When reporting wrongdoing, the reporter's identity, and any information that Kiland Ltd has as a result of the report that is likely to lead to identification, will only be disclosed if:

Whistleblower Policy

- (a) the person reporting gives consent for Kiland Ltd to disclose that information;
- (b) Kiland Ltd considers such disclosure should be made to:
  - (i) Australian Securities & Investments Commission (ASIC), the Australian Federal Police (AFP) or (for tax-related reports) the Commissioner of Taxation;
  - (ii) a Commonwealth authority or a State or Territory authority for the purpose of assisting the authority perform its functions or duties;
  - (iii) a lawyer, for legal advice or representation in relation to whistleblower laws; or
- (c) in the case of information likely to identify the person reporting, it is reasonably necessary to disclose the information for the purposes of an investigation, and all reasonable steps are taken to prevent someone from discovering the reporter's identity.

5. Detrimental Conduct Prohibited

Kiland Ltd strictly prohibits all forms of Detrimental Conduct against whistleblowers. Detrimental Conduct means any actual or threatened conduct that could cause a detriment to the whistleblower as a result of the whistleblower making a disclosure, including:

- (a) termination of employment;
- (b) harassment, bullying or intimidation;
- (c) personal or financial disadvantage;
- (d) unlawful discrimination;
- (e) harm or injury, including psychological harm;
- (f) damage to reputation; or
- (g) any other conduct that constitutes retaliation.

Kiland Ltd will take all reasonable steps to protect the whistleblower from Detrimental Conduct and will take action it considers appropriate where such conduct is identified.

Kiland Ltd also strictly prohibits all forms of Detrimental Conduct against people who are involved in an investigation of a disclosure in response to their involvement in that investigation.

6. Specific protections and remedies

The Australian law provides protections if a "protected disclosure" is made, including that:

- (a) the discloser is not subject to any civil, criminal or administrative liability for making the disclosure (other than for making a false disclosure);
- (b) no contractual or other remedy may be enforced or exercised against the discloser the basis of the disclosure; and
- (c) in some Ltd circumstances (e.g. if the disclosure has been made to a regulator such as ASIC), the information provided may not be admissible in evidence against a discloser in criminal proceedings or in proceedings for the imposition of a penalty, other than proceedings in respect of the falsity of the information.

Whistleblower Policy

Except as provided in paragraph (c) above, the protections under Australian law do not grant immunity for any misconduct a discloser has engaged in that is revealed in their disclosure.

Compensation and other remedies may also be available through the courts for loss, damage or injury suffered because of a disclosure or if Kiland Ltd failed to take reasonable precautions and exercise due diligence to prevent detrimental conduct.

7. Investigations

Whistleblower disclosures made under this Policy will be documented and investigated promptly.

Kiland Ltd takes all reports of potential wrongdoing seriously. All reports will be assessed and, based on the nature and circumstances of the disclosure, a decision made as to whether an investigation is required. For example, reports of potential wrongdoing of a minor nature, that can be resolved informally, will typically not require the same level of response as disclosures involving a large-scale and complex investigation. Any investigation will be conducted in a timely, fair and objective manner, and independent from any persons to whom the report relates. Investigations will generally be overseen by the Compliance Officer. Other people, including employees or external advisers, may also be asked to assist or run the investigation. Where possible, the person reporting the wrongdoing will be informed how Kiland Ltd is responding to their report, including whether an investigation will be conducted.

Unless there are confidentiality or other reasons not to do so, employees who are the subject of a report of wrongdoing will be informed of the matters raised in the report at an appropriate time, and will be given a chance to respond to any allegations made against them. They will also be advised of the outcome of any investigation.

8. Special protections under Part 9.4AAA of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)

The Corporations Act gives special protection to disclosures about any misconduct or improper state of affairs relating to Kiland Ltd if the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) the whistleblower is or has been:
